A day on the beach - Co-read the story

It was a warm summer's day. Everyone was feeling hot. Bheem and his friends wanted to make ice-creams for the whole village. They all made a lot of different flavours of ice cream. Bheem made chocolate ice cream, Chhutki made strawberry ice cream, Jaggu made butterscotch ice cream, Raju made watermelon ice cream, Kalia made cookies and cream ice cream, and Dholu-Bholu made vanilla ice cream. They kept all the ice cream in a big tub and wondered where they should set up their stall.

Raju thought that they should set up their stall at the beach. Indumati liked the idea and offered to help Raju. She wanted Raja Indravarma to also come to the beach, but thought who would guard the village. So they decided that the whole village would go to the beach with Bheem and his friends.

Professor Dhumketu sat in a corner to study about sea creatures. There were so many colourful fishes, crabs, starfishes, jelly fishes, snails, turtles, sea horses, octopus and many more. Bheem and Raju joined the professor to watch the sea creatures.

After all the ice-cream was over, all the children made sandcastles and played football. Chhutki danced around everyone. Everyone had fun till the sunset at the beach!
